Sir:

Responsive to the Office Action dated March 10, 2004, the applicant responds as follows:

Claims 26-30 are rejected as anticipated by Karmi et al.

Karmi discloses a system for geolocating phones using time difference of arrival (TDOA) of a single signal transmitted by a mobile phone that is received at a plurality of base stations (Col. 5, lines 35-50). There is no disclosure in Karmi of geolocating a mobile phone based on the TDOA of reference signals from a plurality of reference signal sources. Nor is there any disclosure of geolocating a mobile phone based on the TDOA of signals transmitted by a base station and received at the mobile phone.

Claim 26-30 requires that the mobile appliance be located from signals received at the mobile appliance transmitted from a plurality of reference signal sources. It is not
